Please see the Important Safety Information on the back of this page.

Indication

APOKYN is used by injection, as needed, to treat loss of control of body movements in people with advanced Parkinson's disease (PD). This condition is also called hypomobility or off episodes. An off episode may include symptoms such as muscle stiffness, slow movements, and difficulty starting movements. APOKYN may improve your ability to control your movements when it is used during an off episode. This may help you walk, talk, or move around easier. APOKYN is not used to prevent off episodes. APOKYN does not take the place of your other medicines for PD.

Important Safety Information for Patients

Do not take APOKYN if you are being treated with certain drugs called 5HT₃ antagonists (including Anzemet®, Kytril®, Zofran®, Lotronex®, and Aloxi®) that are used for nausea and vomiting or irritable bowel syndrome. People taking these types of drugs with apomorphine experienced severely low blood pressure and lost consciousness or "blacked out."

Do not take APOKYN if you are allergic to APOKYN or its ingredients, notably sodium metabisulfite. Sulfites can cause severe, life-threatening allergic reactions in some people, especially in people with asthma.

Before taking APOKYN, tell your healthcare provider about all your medical conditions, including if you have dizziness, fainting spells, low blood pressure, asthma, liver problems, kidney problems, heart problems, a mental disorder called major psychotic disorder, have had a stroke or other brain problems, or drink alcohol.

Tell your healthcare provider about all medicines that you take because APOKYN may interact with other medicines causing serious side effects.

APOKYN must be injected just under the skin and not into a vein. Injecting APOKYN into a vein could cause a blood clot.

Your healthcare provider may prescribe a medicine called Tigan® (trimethobenzamide hydrochloride) to help prevent the severe nausea and vomiting that may occur when taking APOKYN. If Tigan is prescribed, your healthcare provider will determine how long you should remain on this medicine.

Some patients taking APOKYN may get sleepy during the day or fall asleep without warning doing everyday activities. Do not take medicines that make you sleepy while you are taking APOKYN. Until it is known how APOKYN affects your ability to stay alert, you should not drive a car or operate heavy machinery.

APOKYN may lower blood pressure and cause dizziness and fainting, especially when starting treatment or if the dose is increased. Alcohol, antihypertensives, and nitrates may increase this risk. Patients should not get up too fast from sitting or after lying down to minimize these problems.

The changes that occur with PD and the effects of some PD medicines can increase the risk of falling. APOKYN can also increase this risk.

APOKYN can cause or worsen psychotic-like behavior including hallucinations (seeing or hearing things that are not real), confusion, excessive suspicion, aggressive behavior, agitation, delusional beliefs (believing things that are not real), and disorganized thinking. Call your healthcare provider right away if you experience any of these symptoms.

Some people with PD may get sudden, uncontrolled movements after treatment with some PD medicines. APOKYN can cause or worsen this effect.

Some people with PD have reported new or increased gambling urges, increased sexual urges, and other intense urges, while taking PD medicines, including APOKYN. If you experience new or increased urges, tell your healthcare provider.

If you experience shortness of breath, fast heartbeat, chest pain, or if you have a change in your heartbeat, or faint while taking APOKYN, you should call your healthcare provider right away.

Some people with PD may have an increased chance of getting a skin cancer called melanoma. People with PD should have a healthcare provider check their skin for skin cancer regularly.

The most common side effects seen in clinical studies with APOKYN were: yawning; sleepiness; sudden uncontrolled movements; dizziness; runny nose; nausea and/or vomiting; seeing and hearing things that are not real; swelling of hands, arms, legs, and feet.

Some patients may notice soreness, redness, bruising, or itching at the injection site. Change the site with each injection.

Some people may develop depression while taking APOKYN. Call your healthcare provider right away if you become depressed with APOKYN.

Tell your healthcare provider if you are pregnant or plan to become pregnant or if you are breast-feeding or planning to breast-feed. It is not known if APOKYN can harm your unborn baby or if APOKYN passes into breast milk.

To report SUSPECTED ADVERSE REACTIONS or product complaints, contact US WorldMeds at 1-877-727-6596 (1-877-7APOKYN). You may also report SUSPECTED ADVERSE REACTIONS to the FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088 or www.fda.gov/medwatch.

Patients and care partners must receive complete instructions on the proper use of APOKYN. Please see full Prescribing Information and Pen Instructions for Use/Patient Information.

PATIENT SERVICES CONSENT

By signing below, I request enrollment in the Circle of Care Patient Program, whereby I elect to receive nurse education support as selected, which are not a part of, endorsed by, or administered by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs:

The Circle of Care Program is optional and not required for APOKYN. You are not required to enroll. If you choose to enroll, select A or B below.

- A. Pre- and Post-Initiation Patient Support and Education: If you select A, your APOKYN initiation will occur in your doctor's office. Prior to the first administration of APOKYN by your doctor, the Circle of Care nurse educator will provide information about APOKYN and how to safely administer APOKYN via the injection device. Details include instructions on how to insert the cartridge and needle in the device and how to correctly operate the dial to ensure the proper dose. The Circle of Care nurse educator will make sure that you and your care partner are comfortable with the injection device and will also provide instructions about what to expect at the day of your initiation appointment when you receive your first APOKYN injection. If your doctor prescribes medication to be taken prior to your first APOKYN injection, the nurse educator will remind you of those instructions prior to your appointment. Pre-Initiation Education may be conducted in person or by telephone or video conference.

Circle of Care nurse education services are available throughout your APOKYN therapy. The Circle of Care nurse educator will provide post initiation education and support to you and your care partner at a time that is convenient for you. Education may be provided in person, by telephone, or by video conference. In addition, as prescribed by your doctor, the Circle of Care nurse educator will teach and provide instructions on how to titrate your dose, if applicable and as needed, to ensure an effective and tolerated dose up to a maximum recommend dose of 0.6 mL.

- B. Initiation Support and Education: By selecting option B, you will receive the pre- and post-initiation support and education as outlined above in option A, and your APOKYN initiation will occur in your home. The Circle of Care nurse educator will schedule and coordinate your APOKYN initiation appointment to occur in your home. As prescribed by your doctor, the Circle of Care nurse educator will monitor your response to the starting test dose of APOKYN. In addition, as prescribed by your doctor, the Circle of Care nurse educator will teach and provide instructions on how to titrate your dose, if applicable and as needed, to ensure an effective and tolerated dose up to a maximum recommend dose of 0.6 mL.

If in-home initiation support and education by the US WorldMeds Circle of Care Nurse Educator is requested by the patient, a copy of the Statement of Medical Necessity must be faxed to 888-525-2431.
